PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE...

Our speaker for October, Peggy Nash, had to attend and speak at a Conference in Geneva. She did secure another speaker for us, June Macdonald, who is a fellow CFUW member of the North York Club. A summary, made by our Recording Secretary, Helle Tosine, is printed below, as this is a topic of concern for CFUW members.

The Long Gun Registry was saved by a vote in Parliament. This is an issue CFUW has supported since 2006. The Prime Minister has promised to re-open the issue.

CFUW National have developed a list of strategies they intend to implement to improve web and written communications in the organization.

Seven members of Etobicoke attended the Standing Committees. The theme for the morning session was Sexual Abuse addressed by three speakers. The reports of this and the afternoon sessions are in this issue. I wish to thank Peggy Pinkerton, Barb Willoughby and Linda Rose for attending and writing these reports. The next session will be 22, 2011, and the theme will be Education.

The Advocacy Group (Issues) will submit their recommendations on the By-law Amendments to the Executive by November 4, for their consideration. The Executive will then make recommendations to the Club members by November 11, when the vote will take place. The Club is required to send the decision by December 7 to CFUW National.

Barb Willoughby, Linda Rose and I will have attended the Fall Gathering of The Ontario Central Clubs on October 30. The report on this will be in the December/January issue.

Those attending the October meeting donated $720 to the Food Bank. Linda Johnson assisted the Club in the collection.

We have sold out our share of the tickets ( sixteen tickets) for the December 6th luncheon!

This event is held at the Toronto Club House.

Our sale of used books is this month: bring some-- buy some!!!

The Rosters have arrived. Pick up yours at the November meeting or check with your Interest Group Leader who may have picked it up.

The November speaker will be author Margaret Webb, who will talk about sustainable farming in Canada. See the ad in this issue.

I wish to thank all members of the Executive for their part in running a successful meeting.

- Pat Joyce

BOOK SALE

Our annual Book Sale will take place at our General Meeting November 12th. We request that you DO NOT contribute hard cover books, except for recent novels. Also, please provide RECENT paperbacks. The older books are not in demand, and your Book Sale Committee has to dispose of all those heavy, unwanted books. (If you have a surplus of old books to give away, contact Moira Hoogeveen.)

This is a money-maker for our club, and we count on you to bring in your previously enjoyed books, so that you can stock up on others! Please arrive with your books between 7:00 and 7:15 p.m. so that the committee can price the books prior to the start of the sale.

Advance Notice: Christmas Party

December 10, 2009

Featuring The Queensmen

A select group of the Queensmen male singers will entertain us.

All Interest Groups will provide a gift to be raffled off to support

Ernestine's Women's Shelter and Women's Habitat.

Tickets will be on sale at the meeting.

CFUW BULLETIN BOARD AND NETWORKING TABLE

Please remember to read the information which is posted on our Bulletin Board at General Meetings. There is a variety of notices from our own club, The Ontario Council, CFUW National and IFUW.

This year we will again provide a networking space for members who wish to share business and professional information. This will be situated adjacent to the club bulletin board.

Ontario Council Standing Committee Meeting, October 2, 2010

Morning Session: Sexual Violence from Horror to Healing

The first speaker was Rhea Pretsell, President of CFUW Belleville & District and the Ontario Council Chair of the Women and Human Rights Committee. She presented her paper entitled Sexual Violence as a Weapon of War: The Case in the Congo. This discussion paper was chosen to be presented at the IFUW Triennial in Mexico City last summer. The historical background of hostilities in the Congo dates back to Belgium's rule, the Mobutu era, and ongoing tribal hostilities. The sexual violence perpetrated by all armed groups in the Congo is the worst seen anywhere in the world. Rape victims, judged to be soiled and dirty, suffer in shame and silence. The present situation is fueled by demand for natural resources and the militarization of the mineral trade. The international community has a responsibility to protect and to promote the establishment of a civil society that builds democracy and educates its women and girls.

The next speaker was Jacqueline Benn-John, Executive Director of the Sexual Assault and Violence Intervention Services of Halton, and the president of the Ontario Coalition for Rape Crisis Centres. The OCRCC has been in consultation with the government to establish a Sexual Violence Action Plan. There is a long waiting list for services and centres need the capacity to respond. The plan will focus on prevention through education and publicity, improved community services, training for staff, and better co-ordination between agencies. The goal is to establish long-term solutions, not just temporary easing of problems. The consultation document is online at the Ontario Women's Directorate which is one of the responsibilities of Laurel Broten's ministry.

The final speaker was Kim Charlebois, the Executive Director of the Sexual Assault Centre for Quinte & District. The focus of her presentation was the healing process, which is unique to each person. They had seen a need among their clients for a residential healing program in addition to the personal and group therapy available. They developed a one-week program to serve a group of ten in a rural setting. The Paths of Courage is a holistic program that includes intensive therapy in the morning coupled with physical, emotional and spiritual emphases.

The morning session ended with a presentation by the Burlington Club. They role-played visits with various elected officials that were both educational and highly entertaining.

- Barbara Willoughby

Afternoon sessions:

Education Committee Report:

Gail Marriot is the new Chair for this Committee. A general discussion of issues in education was contributed by the various Club delegates. Some of these were the new Provincial Kindergarten Programme implementation, financial literacy, funding discrepancy, bussing and the use of technology in the schools. Names of possible speakers were suggested for the January 22, 2011 session. The Education Committee will host this session.

Legislation Committee Report:

Emphasis was on the upcoming municipal elections, and by way of introducing themselves and their clubs, members outlined local concerns and sometime action, among which were: affordable housing, supportive housing, power stations, seniors' services, poverty, bicycle paths, LHINS, shortage of doctors.

The meeting broke into smaller groups, each of which focused on specific topics and on strategies to make effective representation to candidates, and to generally be more effective municipal citizens. Clubs (and members) were urged to:

- ▶ Pay more attention to municipal politics and monitor council meetings.
- ▶ Research local needs and choose your issue (affordable housing, transit, help for mental health patients, seniors and homeless youth, street safety, zoning and green space were mentioned).
- ▶ Encourage club members to attend All Candidates meetings.
- ▶ Formulate specific questions, trying for relevance to CFUW concerns.
- ▶ Inundate candidates with letters, phone calls.
- ▶ Put forward good candidates and support them.
- ▶ Establish workshops to encourage women to run.
- ▶ Encourage club members to volunteer for local boards, to involve themselves (and their club) in the local scene.

One group focused on needs of older adults:

- ▶ All municipalities should have long-term care policy and institutions: clubs should monitor those in their area.
- ▶ Sufficient staff and funding must be in place to ensure specific mandated hours of care.

In pushing issues, it was considered more effective to write letters than email, and to write individual, rather than form, letters.

- Peggy Pinkerton

Status of Women and Human Rights Committee Report:

Rhea Pretsell told us of her involvement in CFUW Belleville and District and stressed the importance of making connections in the local community.

Everyone had an opportunity to share ideas of how the clubs in Ontario are advocating in women's issues in our many communities.

These are some of the actions and ideas in which various clubs have participated:

- ▶ members served on women's shelter Boards;
- ▶ petition sent out about the gun registry;
- ▶ partnerships were formed with sexual assault centres, immigrant services groups, local branches of Amnesty International;
- ▶ organized a house tour as major fundraise;.
- ▶ donated children's books as Christmas presents;
- ▶ met with MPP to discuss national Resolutions;
- ▶ gave gifts to women in shelters on Mother's Day;
- ▶ disseminated FLEW material;
- ▶ had a "virtual " advocacy group whose members phone/write to MPPs, etc., as issues develop throughout the year;
- ▶ held auctions, lunches, card parties, book sales for fundraising e.g. CARE Canada.

Ardith Toogood (CIR for CFUW National) spoke to our group and reminded us of these special days: October 18 - Person's Day; December 6 - National Day of Remembrance and Action on Violence Against Women; and March 8 - International Women's Day. For more information, we are invited to visit the Status of Women website: <http://www.swc-cfc.gc.ca/index-eng.html>

- Linda Rose

HAPPY PERSONS DAY! OCT. 18, 2010

81 Years ago today women were finally declared to be "Persons". The decision was in response to the work of five women known as the "famous Five": Emilie Murphy, Nellie McClung, Louise McKinney, Irene Parlby and Henrietta Muir Edwards who petitioned the Supreme Court to define the words "persons" as inclusive of women. Women had been elected to the House of Commons but could not sit in the Senate because they were not considered "persons" under the law.

The Supreme Court ruled against them, but the women took the case to the final court of appeal, the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. On Oct. 18, 1929, the Council ruled that the word "persons" included members of both the male and female sex and that women "are eligible to be summoned to and become members of the Senate of Canada."

For the past 30 years, Status of Women Canada has presented Governor General's Awards to five women who have contributed to women's equality. This year the winners were M Marie Louise Fish, Lucille Harper, Kerline Joseph, Anne Michaud and Barbara Mowat. (By Robin Jackson, Executive Director CFUW National Office, who attended this event.)

CFUW ETOBICOKE NEWS...

CONDOLENCES

to

Sally Grout

whose husband Richard Stanley Grout

passed away earlier this summer.

Members of the Club extend sympathy to Sally and her family.

ROSTERS ARE READY!

Rosters were ready in October this year. Interest Groups Convenors can assist with the distribution by picking up their group's rosters and calling members to pick them up if they don't have a meeting in the near future. There have been some complaints that members didn't receive them until the Spring! Rosters can be mailed for a small cost. Contact Eleanor MacLean at 416.621.6763 for this service.

A special thanks to Eleanor and Sharon Smith along with Lee Fullerton in Membership and Bonnie McGuire with the Data Base

Philadelphia Flower Show and Beyond March 5-8, 2011

Join the Mudders Interest Group for a 4-day, 3-night mid-winter escape to Philadelphia. We will visit the floral and gardening exhibits of the world famous Philadelphia Flower Show, Longwoods Gardens, one of America's most spectacular horticultural sites, and explore four centuries of history, architecture, museums and shopping in downtown Philadelphia. We will be joining a tour that has been organized for the Toronto Botanical Garden. We welcome other CFUW members and friends to join us.

October Speaker: JUNE McDONALD

June McDonald, a fellow CFUW member from North York, recently completed a doctorate with voting system reform as a focus and has been a college educator for the past 20 years. She was one of the founders of the Fair Vote Canada, Toronto Chapter.

June, who has been involved with this issue for over 15 years, spoke of Doris Anderson as her inspiration in attracting her to the important issue of electoral reform and participatory representation in Canada's parliamentary system. She also noted that her comments this evening were as a result of recent discussions with Peggy Nash.

June quoted from several well-known Canadians, including Ed Broadbent, to explain how Canada's system should be changed. The current system that Canada has, "first past the post" fails to provide representation for all voters. This system represents only those voters who support the most popular party in their riding. The political views of other voters are not represented.

June explained that because many voters, often the majority, do not elect an MP, over-all election results are distorted. A party winning only 40% of the votes may gain 60% or more of the seats and 100% of the power. A party winning 30% of the votes could find itself with only 10% of the seats. For example, in the last election more than 60% of Quebec voters cast votes for federalist parties but the voting system gave two-thirds of the seats to a separatist party. Over 940,000 Canadians, many of them young people, voted for the Green Party but gained no representation in Parliament.

Because of these large misrepresentations, Canada is generally ruled by majority governments which did not win a majority of votes. Canada has had only four governments elected by a majority of voters since World War I.

June believes that proportional representation (PR) can provide solutions to these issues. She brought forward examples from Germany and other EU countries which use PR systems, the basis of which is to get as close as possible to treating every voter equally - or in other words, to create true representative democracy. Countries using fair voting systems generally have higher voter turnouts.

When each vote has equal value, election results are proportional. A party that receives 40% of the votes will receive close to 40% of the seats in the legislature, not 60% or more. A party which receives 20% of the votes will win close to 20% of the seats, not 10% or none at all.

Fair voting systems tend to produce parliaments with more women and visible minorities. Because parties have to nominate lists of candidates to compete in each region, they quickly learn that candidate lists reflecting the diversity of the population usually attract more votes.

In closing, June encouraged CFUW members to speak to their MPPs and MPs about PR to gain support to reform the Canadian parliamentary system.

Thanks to all who have volunteered to help with this aspect of our meetings. Volunteers are still needed to cover food preparation and to greet members for January to April 2011 General Meetings. Please see Elizabeth Penke, the Convenor or phone 905.677.5790.

Please bring your CFUW mug to the General Meetings!!!!

Membership Report Oct 2010

First of all, I'd like to thank the vast majority of you for sending in your renewal fees so promptly this year. We have only a few outstanding now at mid-October. Because we had such a good response, the Roster Committee was able to print the rosters for this October meeting so you would have the book a month early.

I'd like to thank Bonnie McGuire, our database manager, and Sharon Smith and Eleanor McLean, who create and distribute the roster, for their dedication and hard work in getting the roster out early this year.

All names should be in the roster; however, we need renewal fees from a few of you before you can have a copy. Please give your cheques for $101 to our Treasurer Joanne Jamieson.

We have 17 new or returning members so far this year – many were introduced at the last meeting. I'd like to welcome the following three new members for October:

Carmela Cobham
Caroline Hull
Joyce MacIntosh

And don't forget to mention CFUW Etobicoke to your friends – most new members are referred by current members. Thank you.

- Lee Fullerton, Membership Convener

Please correct the following information in your new roster.

Joan Martin: 3121-2245 Lawrence Avenue W. Toronto M9P 3W3; 416-235-2819 Room 3121

Ruth Rowntree's email address is: rowntree.home@sympatico.ca

Margaret Kearns e-mail address is: makearns@sympatico.ca

Maxine Heinrich's e-mail is: maxinebheinrich@gmail.com

CONGRATULATIONS, JEAN!

CFUW member Jean MacMillan won a prize for her monoprint, Memories of Greenland in the annual Etobicoke Art Group show at the Etobicoke Civic Centre, which continues to October 23.

INTEREST GROUP NEWS ...

To All Interest Group Convenors:

Traditionally, at this time of year, we support the women and children who have found a haven at Ernestine's Women's Shelter and Women's Habitat. Each interest group is requested to provide a gift that can be raffled for this cause at our Christmas Party in December.

Please identify the donor group and use clear wrap or a bow so that the contents of the gift are visible. Thank you.

- Pat Witol and Fran Laphen, Interest Groups Co-Convenors

Jaunters October Outing:

In September the Jaunters Group was privileged to have a talk and walk with Maureen Jennings, author of the Detective Murdoch Mysteries and television series.

We started at the Jarvis Street Baptist Church at Jarvis and Gerrard and proceeded to tour the Victorian Cork Town part of Toronto. As we went along, Maureen filled us in about the buildings that were once there, the life led by the people in the late 19th and early 20th century, and other interesting information.

Dressed as she was in a long skirt edged with lace, buttoned matching jacket and a straw hat bedecked with flowers, she was the epitome of a Victorian lady. The only give-away were the white running shoes.

There was a record number of jaunters that day. Over 35 had signed up for the tour and lunch at the Dominion on Queen Pub. It was a lovely day and an exceptional presentation.

GREEN GOURMET

I have been toying with the idea of initiating a new interest group that would combine a passion for cooking and eating good food and a love for our planet, with the aim of keeping both healthy. Please get in touch with me if you are interested in helping to create such a group that might involve itself in:

- ▶ Discovering ways to make more ethical food choices
- ▶ Both growing and shopping for affordable, local and organic foods
- ▶ Exploring creative and healthy ways of being a locavore (especially in winter)
- ▶ Cooking and eating in gourmet style, or
- ▶ Visiting restaurants or farms that offer local fare.

Perhaps together we can come up with an exciting new group.
